A superstitious subscriber, who found a spider in his paper, wants to know if it is considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was just looking over the columns of the paper to see what merchants were not advertising so that it could spin its web across his store door and be free from disturbance.—Ex.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Boysie City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl...my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me...but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable...I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for

Comfort of Body

Many children and adults are constant sufferers from cold hands and feet and are acutely susceptible to every chill and sudden climatic change. There is definite help in which furnishes fuel to warm the body, helps make pure, red blood and maintain the system in a state of robustness, so that the buffeting winds or the sudden chill of evening are enjoyed rather than feared. For comfort of body and buoyant health, take Scott's Emulsion.

A copy of the Gilmer (Texas) Daily Mirror received at The Falcon office Monday announces the death at Sulphur Springs, Texas, of Mrs. Nannie Wallace who was reared at Macon, this county. She was a daughter of the late Dr. T. L. Boswell, in his day one of the leading Methodist ministers of this section, and was a sister of T. J. Boswell of Macon and E. J. Boswell of this city. Mrs. Wallace was about 65 years of age, the Mirror states.

We are generally losers in the end if we stop to refute all the backbitings and gossipings we may hear by the way. They are annoying, it is true, but not dangerous so long as we do not expostulate and scold. Our characters are formed and sustained by ourselves and by our own actions and not by others. They may injure us for a time but public opinion and justice will correct all groundless slander if we do not furnish fuel to the flame by taking valuable time to deny the charges.—Ex.

The dredge boat and other paraphernalia for the work have been moved recently thru Somerville to Big Muddy bottom in the north end of the county below the Camp Ground and we understand that the work of digging the drainage canal thru that bottom will begin at once. Bonds were issued for this work some time ago and the contract let by the drainage board at Brownsville some time ago, the larger part of the drainage district being in that county. This is the first drainage work of the kind ever done in Fayette county and the success of the project will be watched with very great interest by many citizens who believe that by this means thousands of the very best lands of the county can be brought from their present unproductive state to be the most productive lands in the county.

High Costs Affect Operation Greater Revenues Required

Changes in Bell Telephone Rates--1913 to 1918 Compared With Changes in Wages and Prices

SINCE 1913 there has been steady increase in the price of all commodities and the products of industry, which has not been reflected in a corresponding increase in telephone rates. In order to meet the past and present high cost of telephone operation, a revenue in just proportion to the expense must be secured.

The reason is simple. The cost of telephone operation has steadily advanced both because of the increased cost of material and the increased living cost of employes. The consumer has realized the necessity of paying more for rent, for food, for clothing and for transportation. The telephone industry has been affected by the same conditions which have produced higher prices in all of the necessities of life.

Between 1913 and 1918, commodity prices advanced 112 per cent, wages advanced 72 per cent and Bell Telephone rates the country over advanced 4 per cent. Adequate rates are needed if the service is to be maintained efficiently and on a comprehensive scale, so as to meet the increasing demands of the public.

This company is operating its telephone property under the direction of the postmaster General for the United States Government and must secure sufficient revenue to cover the cost of rendering the service.
